This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

REPORT OF STATE FACTORY INSPECTOR.

To His Excellency, Edward F. Dunne, Governor, State of Illinois:

Upon assuming the position as Chief of the Illinois Department of Factory Inspection, I discovered that the annual reports, as required by the Act creating this department, had not been issued later than for the year 1908. This unfortunate situation was due to conditions existing in the department prior to my assuming the duties as chief, and owing to this condition of affairs, it was thought best to compile such statistical matter which was at hand covering the inspections made for the year ending December 15, 1910, and present it in this volume, in order that the department records may be kept intact. Because of the fact that no memorandum whatever as regards the important features pertaining to the activities of the department was left by my predecessor, and because the statistics herein contained were compiled several months before my taking charge of the office, and a considerable period of time has elapsed since inspections were made in the year 1910, it is the intention of this department to present such statistics in tabulated form without any extended comment on same.

In the following tables will be found in condensed form, a record of inspections for the year. Table No. 1, shows the number of inspections made under each law, and the number of employees found in establishments inspected under the Child Labor Act. Table No. 2, gives a classification of the industries in Chicago, and the results of the child labor inspections made under the different classes. Table No. 3, shows the comparison of employees working in the establishments inspected during the year, with the other years since the creation of the department.

REPORT OF STATE FACTORY INSPECTION

To His Excellency, Edward F. Dunne, Governor, Springfield, Illinois.

DEAR SIR: The Forty-seventh General Assembly at the regular session, amended the Act creating the Department of Factories and Workshops, requiring that the Chief State Factory Inspector should report in writing to the Governor on the 30th day of June instead of December 15 annually. The result of his inspections and investigations, together with such other information and recommendations he may deem proper.

In order to comply with this amendment the results of inspections during the period from December 16, 1910, to June 30, 1911, are hereby compiled in the form of a supplementary report. The results of inspections from July 1, 1911, to June 30, 1912, are also presented under the same cover, the entire volume to be known as the Nineteenth Annual Report of the Department of Factories and Workshops.

Statistical tables herein contained, showing the results of inspections covering the total period of time from December 16, 1910, to June 30, 1912, had been compiled, but had not been printed at the time of my appointment as Chief of the Illinois Department of Factory Inspection. In order that the files and records of the department may be kept intact, the material is hereby embodied in report form and respectfully submitted.

The Forty-seventh General Assembly passed two laws, one, an Act to promote the public health by protecting certain employees in this State from the dangers of occupational diseases, and providing for the enforcement thereof; this Act is commonly known as the occupational disease law; the other, an Act to regulate and limit the hours of employment of females in any mechanical or mercantile establishment, or factory, or laundry, hotel or restaurant, or telegraph or telephone establishment or office thereof, or in any place of amusement, or by any express or transportation or public utility business, or by any common carrier or in any public institution, incorporated or unincorporated in this State, in order to safeguard the health of such employees; to provide for its enforcement and a penalty for its violation. This Act is commonly known as the Woman's Ten Hour Law. The above laws were approved and went into effect July 1, 1911. The enforcement of these two laws was placed under the jurisdiction of this department.

Part 1 of the report will show statistical tables covering inspections made by the department from December 16, 1910, to June 30, 1911.

Table 1 shows number of inspections and employees working in establishments inspected under the child labor law.

Table 2 gives the divisions of inspections between the city of Chicago and cities outside of Chicago and Cook County.

Table 3 is a classification of industries inspected in Chicago and the results of the inspections in these industries under the child labor law.

Table 4 gives results of inspections under the child labor law in cities outside of Chicago and Cook County.

Following in their order are statistical tables showing results of inspections both in Chicago and Cook County, and in the cities outside of Chicago and Cook County, under the structural iron law, butterine and ice cream law, metal polishing wheel law, health, safety and comfort law and results of prosecutions.

Part 2 of the report includes statistical tables showing results of inspections under the various laws for the year from July 1, 1911, to June 30, 1912. The statistical tables therein shown are in the same order and show the same results as tables in part 1, with the addition of tables showing the results of inspections under the woman's ten hour law and a brief article on the activities of the department in enforcing the occupational disease law.

RESULTS OF INSPECTIONS UNDER THE OCCUPATIONAL DISEASE LAW, STATE OF ILLINOIS, FROM JULY 1, 1911, TO JUNE 30, 1912

The occupational disease law, which was passed by the Forty-seventh General Assembly and went into effect July 1, 1911, contained certain provisions which were entirely different from any other law under the jurisdiction of the Illinois Department of Factory Inspection. The Act provides for the preventing of diseases incident to the handling of industrial poisons, such as lead, arsenic, phosphorus, and other poisonous chemicals that enter into the processes of manufacture in any form. It was necessary for the department to first ascertain the establishment within the State which came under the provisions of the law. This task took up the greater part of the time of the department during the fiscal year covered by this report. The department had one physician during the year, and almost all of the field work connected with the enforcement of the Act fell upon him. It was necessary for him to visit establishments to determine whether or not they came under the law, to examine employees found working in the establishments visited, and to follow up cases of sickness reported from these establishments to the State Board of Health. Seventeen (17) orders were sent to as many different establishments, following the inspections made by the department physician. These orders are given below in condensed form in order to show the requirements of the law:

Alston Lucas Paint Co., Mfg. Paints.
